

Where the Adventure Begins

Located at the southeastern edge of Death Valley National Park, the small village of Shoshone is enjoyed by travelers from around the world.

It is a small piece of paradise in the vast Mojave Desert - a green oasis replete with sanctuary habitats for a variety of flora and fauna including several endangered and threatened species.

Enjoy a window into the past at Dublin Gulch, a historical, residential mining district where the dwellings of the prospectors were built into the caliche hills. Visit the Shoshone Museum to learn even more about this region's rich history.

Shoshone Inn

Enjoy our contemporary accommodations with the charm of western hospitality. All guests of the Inn have free access to our healing warm spring pool. Kitchenettes are available. Call (760) 852-4335 for reservations.

Crowbar Café & Saloon

Enjoy our fabulous handmade food and libations, including our espresso bar, either inside the historical Crowbar or outside on the patio.

Charles Brown General Store & Gift Shop

We offer a selection of high-quality southwestern gifts including jewelry, colorful mineral specimens, and local specialty foods. In addition, we offer provisions for the traveler such as a variety of household and camping supplies, plus gas and propane. Call (760) 852-4242.

Shoshone RV Park and Campground

Full hookups, tent camping, showers, laundry, and warm spring pool. Call (760) 852-4569.

Shoshone Airport

Available for fly-in customers. Radio frequency for lights - 122.8. Runway length - 2380 feet, width - 30 feet. Call Bishop Airport for further information: (760) 872-2971.

Shoshone Museum

The Shoshone Museum houses a large collection of artifacts and documents that record the history of the area. It also serves as a showcase for the geology and natural history of the Amargosa and Death Valley region. (760) 852-4524.

SHEAR Center

Shoshone Education & Research Center is a non-profit organization that provides field housing for all educational and scientific groups who are visiting the Amargosa and Death Valley region. SHEAR is primarily the base camp for universities studying geology, but it is open to all. Contact Darrel Cowan at darrel@uw.edu to make a reservation.

For more information contact:

Shoshone Village

760-852-4224

PO Box 67, Shoshone, CA 92384
villagecentral@shoshonevillage.com
www.shoshonevillage.com

Shoshone Village

Explore.

Learn.

Renew.

Relax.

Shoshone Village

Breathe deep and allow the fresh, clean air of the Amargosa River Valley to invigorate you.

Explore Shoshone's world class geology and marvel at its colorful history as a railroad town and rich mining district.

Cool by day and warm by night, yield to the power of our natural warm springs pool to enliven your senses.

Explore.

Behold 1.7 billion years of geological events in the vast unspoiled beauty of the Amargosa.

A limitless variety of hiking and off-road adventures abound in the magnificent Mojave Desert that surrounds our village.

Learn.

The Amargosa region is a living university that will fascinate you. Its wonders include geology, paleontology, birding, small and large mammal biology, and cultural history.

Renew.

Gaze upon the brilliant red sky as the sun sets beyond Death Valley.

The heat of the desert's day will renew you, as it envelopes you in its warm embrace.

Relax.

The soothing warm spring pool is one of the Shoshone's many abundant natural wonders. Its waters are a year-round delight.

Stroll the trails and discover the Amargosa River's truly unique flora and fauna, as you are serenaded by the songs of a diversity of birds that each year travel through the Shoshone Wetlands.